CONCORD, NH (August 29, 2022): New Hampshire Secretary of State David M. Scanlan announces voting information in Spanish, French, and Mandarin Chinese is available on the Secretary of State's (SOS) website at <https://www.sos.nh.gov/multilingual-election-information>. The SOS is pleased to provide an important segment of the NH population multilingual information on registering to vote, voting rights and election-day procedures.

In April 2022, the Secretary of State's Office initiated discussions on this project with Language Bank, a professional translation service. Election officials are encouraged to print off these materials as needed and use them as a resource during the September 13th State Primary and November 8th General Elections.

As the administrator of elections in New Hampshire, the Secretary of State's Office strives to ensure everyone who is qualified to vote is given equal opportunity to do so. Part of this effort includes making important election information more accessible to foreign-language speaking citizens. This diversification of voting resources reflects the growth of cultural diversity among New Hampshire's citizenry.
