Agenda - Day One - Monday, September 25, 2006 (continued)

1:30 p.m. Special Guest Speaker: David K. Garman, Under Secretary of Energy, United States Department of Energy

2:00 p.m. Today's Industry Trade-offs

Different resource types need to be considered to keep the region's power system reliable, efficient, and economic.

Yet, today's electricity industry is experiencing conflicting issues:

- Need for new, diverse resources vs. siting concerns and NIMBY-ism
- Environmental quality vs. consumer costs
- Band-aid solutions vs. long-term power grid upgrades
- Growing consumer demand vs. opposition to LNG and pipeline additions

This panel will consider the shape and scale of New England's energy infrastructure while exploring current conflicts, trade-offs, and next steps.

Moderator: Susan F. Tierney, Managing Principal, The Analysis Group (Former Assistant Secretary for Policy at the U.S. Department of Energy and Massachusetts Public Utility Commissioner)

- Janet Gail Besser, Vice President of Transmission Regulation & Commercial, National Grid USA
- Armond Cohen, Executive Director, Clean Air Task Force
- Robert Gramlich, Policy Director, American Wind Energy Association (Former Economic Advisor for FERC Chairman Pat Wood, III)
- Frank Katulak, President, Distrigas of Massachusetts
- Commissioner Gina McCarthy, Connecticut Department of Environmental Protection
- John D. O'Brien, Jr., Vice President, Regulatory & Environmental Affairs, Exelon Power Corporation
- Philip Warburg, President, Conservation Law Foundation and CLF Ventures

4:15 p.m. Day One Closing Remarks

4:30 - 6:00 p.m. Technology Vendor Showcase and Cocktail Reception
Reception sponsored by the Energy Bar Association

Day Two - Tuesday, September 26, 2006

8:15 a.m. Continental Breakfast and Technology Vendor Showcase

9:00 a.m. Day Two Opening Remarks

9:30 a.m. Tackling Electricity Costs through Policy, Efficiency, and Technology

Controlling electricity costs is top of mind for everyone; yet, introducing new technologies and efficiencies can be expensive. What should policy makers do to focus on new technologies and energy efficiencies, but still keep costs in check? Or can the industry respond on its own by adopting new technology and efficiencies that will control costs?

Moderator: Anne George, Commissioner, Connecticut Department of Public Utility Control

- Representative Daniel Bosley, House Chairman, Massachusetts Joint Committee on Economic Development and Emerging Technologies
- Daniel Brdar, President and Chief Executive Officer, Fuel Cell Energy Corporation
- Clark Gellings, Vice President of Innovation, Electric Power Research Institute
- Rick Mattila, Director of Environmental Affairs, Genzyme Corporation
- Eric Winkler, Ph. D., Director, Massachusetts Energy Efficiency Partnership

11:15 a.m. Refreshment Break and Technology Vendor Showcase

11:30 a.m. New England's Energy Future: Next Steps

Industry leaders will discuss their vision for the future of the region's energy industry over the next five years.

- Sarah J. Burns, President and Chief Executive Officer, Central Maine Power
- Thomas J. May, Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer, NSTAR
- John O'Neal, Senior Vice President, Mirant Corporation
- Clem Palevich, President & Chief Executive Officer, Constellation NewEnergy, Inc.

1:00 p.m. Buffet Luncheon, Dessert Reception, and Technology Vendor Showcase

2:00 p.m. Solutions within Sight: A Roundtable Discussion

State legislators will wrap up the forum with a roundtable discussion describing state initiatives to address resource adequacy and how the region can balance electricity costs and consumer choices. The solutions have been identified. Now, what needs to get done?

Moderator: Richard Stavros, Executive Editor, Public Utilities Fortnightly

- Senator Philip L. Bartlett II, Chair of the Maine Joint Standing Committee on Utilities and Energy
- Representative Brian Dempsey, House Chairman, Massachusetts Joint Committee on Telecommunications, Utilities and Energy
- Representative Steve Fontana, House Chairman of the Energy & Technology Committee, Connecticut General Assembly

Solutions for New England's Energy Future

2006 CONFERENCE AND VENDOR SHOWCASE SEPTEMBER 25 & 26, 2006

Marriott Long Wharf | Boston, MA

Dynamic changes in New England's wholesale electricity markets have prompted improvements in the region's power system and created new challenges. Continuing the progress we've achieved to date will require a difficult balancing act by policy makers, a sustained commitment from the industry, and active participation by consumers.

Please join us as industry experts and decision makers lead discussions on how far we've come and where we need to go next at ISO New England's third annual conference: Lights, Power, Action: Solutions for New England's Energy Future.

Agenda

Day One - Monday, September 25, 2006

7:30 a.m. Registration, Continental Breakfast, and Technology Vendor Showcase
Breakfast sponsored by Constellation NewEnergy, Inc.

9:00 a.m. Are We Ready for the Future?

Opening the conference, ISO New England's President and CEO will review current industry challenges, as well as potential solutions to move the industry forward.

- Infrastructure challenges: Needed capacity; transmission upgrades; gas pipeline and liquefied natural gas (LNG) terminals
- Environmental challenges: Reliability; air quality; environmental regulations
- Political challenges: Anti-markets; price volatility; NIMBY-ism; disparate state policies and interests
- Solutions: Reliable infrastructure; fuel diversity; energy efficiency; consumer education on choices and costs

- Gordon van Welie, President and Chief Executive Officer, ISO New England Inc.

9:15 a.m. New England's Electricity Costs: A Realistic Perspective

This speaker will address New England's electricity cost drivers compared to those across the nation.

- Henry Lee, Director, Environment and Natural Resources Program, John F. Kennedy School of Government, Harvard University

10:00 a.m. Refreshment Break and Technology Vendor Showcase

10:15 a.m. To Market, To Market: How Does the Industry Move Forward?

Wholesale electricity markets spurred efficiency and competition, so why are prices increasing and investment stalled? This panel will discuss the state of wholesale markets, the pluses and minuses of restructuring, and what steps the industry should take to move forward.

Moderator: Vamsi Chadalavada, Senior Vice President, Market and System Solutions, ISO New England Inc.

- Susan N. Kelly, Vice President of Policy Analysis and General Counsel, American Public Power Association
- Bill Massey, Covington & Burling, Counsel to COMPETE (Commissioner of the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission 1993-2003)
- John E. Shelk, President and Chief Executive Officer, Electric Power Supply Association

Responder Panel:

- David T. Doot, Partner, Day, Berry & Howard, LLP
- William M. Flynn, Chairman, New York State Public Service Commission

12:15 p.m. Luncheon and Keynote Address by Joseph T. Kelliher, Chairman, Federal Energy Regulatory Commission
Luncheon sponsored by The New England Power Generators Association
