Workshop: Encore? Energy Efficiency Program Performance

Renaissance East

Energy efficiency has been a hot topic at NARUC over the last two years through involvement in the National Action Plan for Energy Efficiency and many state initiated efforts. Some call energy efficiency the fifth fuel, others the first. The question arises –exactly how well does energy efficiency stack up against other transmission and generation options to meet growing energy demand? How are energy and greenhouse gas savings measured and verified?

NARUC will explore these questions in light of the release of the Model Energy Efficiency Program Impact Evaluation Guide. Members of the Action Plan Leadership Group and states at the forefront of EE M&V will present their views and findings.
