Dear Colleagues and Friends:

The National Organization of Black Elected Legislative Women (NOBEL/Women) invites you to meet "The Sisters In The Heartland" for our National Annual Legislative Conference in Des Moines, Iowa, June 26-29, 2008. We promise you that this Year's conference will be as exciting and informative as any of our past annual conferences.

Iowa is full of surprises, many of these related to the rich history of African Americans in Iowa. The struggle for freedom in Iowa began in 1804 when a man named York entered the state of Iowa as a slave with the Lewis & Clark Expedition. Slavery ended in Iowa in 1839 when Charles Mason, Chief Justice of Iowa's Supreme Court outlawed slavery with his ruling in the Matter of Ralph.

Des Moines, Iowa is the birth place of the National Bar Association (1925), has the only major university stadium named for an African American in the U.S.A., Iowa State University's Jack Trice Stadium, and George Washington Carver graduated in 1895 from Iowa State University. We could go on, but we won't! Hopefully, your curiosity to know more and experience four wonderful days to network, learn and share with women from throughout the country, will encourage you to commit and confirm your attendance in Iowa. The rough challenges we, as women, face in the 21st Century is astronomical, and how we deal with change in our Legislative Assemblies will determine how we pioneer the future for our communities'.

Our four day agenda includes: Workshops, Dynamic Speakers, Luncheons, "Governor's Reception", "Shining Star Awards Gala", the Play "Crowns", Casinos, Tours, Shopping and much more. Do Not Wait - Do It Now - Show Your Support for "The Sisters In The Heartland" - send your registration to the National Office and call the hotel to make your reservations. If possible, try to schedule your flight to arrive in Des Moines before Noon, Thursday, June 26th, so that you, your family and friends can enjoy everyday of the conference.

So once again, "The Sisters In The Heartland" are looking forward to your coming and bringing your family and friends and showing you a wonderful time in Iowa.

In Unity,
Margaret Carter
