Secretary of State David Scanlan Predicts Record Voter Turnout for the General Election

The 2024 General Election will take place on Tuesday, November 5.

CONCORD, NH (October 31, 2024): Secretary of State David Scanlan predicts that a record number of 824,000 New Hampshire voters will participate in the General Election, to be held on Tuesday, November 5.

Along with the record turnout there will be a high number of election-day registrations. After the statutory checklist verification in 2021, many inactive voters' names were removed from the voter checklist due to inactivity. Many of these voters are expected to re-register on election day.

Voters and poll workers should expect lines when the polls open and steady voting throughout the day.
